U.N. Command Asks for Liaison Meeting

Bill Would Jail Drunk Motorists

Ohio Senate Studies Mandatory 3-Day Minimum Sentence

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The Ohio Senate was ready today to pass a proposed law requiring drunken drivers to spend at least three days in jail.

An affirmative vote this afternoon on a bill by Sen. Delbert Latta (R-Hancock) would send the bill to the House.

Present law provides drunken driving penalties of up to a $500 fine or up to 30 days in jail. Latta's bill provides a minimum jail term of three days and a maximum of six months and a maximum fine of $500. Both fines and jail sentences could be imposed.

At the same time, the House will vote on the first of three measures to benefit public utility consumers. It is a measure aimed at improvement of rural telephone service.

The bill by Rep. John E. Henderson (R-Guernsey) gives the state utilities commission:

Unlimited authority to determine what constitutes reasonable service.

Authority to turn over a service territory to a competing company if the firm serving the area fails to meet reasonable service standards.

Power to prevent a firm in violation of commission orders from paying cash or bond dividends.

The Senate Tuesday passed 22-11 and sent to the House a bill setting up a single, streamlined legislative service bureau. The bill merges the Legislative Research Bureau, the Code Revision Commission and the Ohio Program Commission, but exempts the leg-

Some 260 employees of Marion Metal Products Co. were granted a 10-cent an hour wage hike, according to terms of a revised and extended contract announced jointly today by the company and Local 1281, International Association of Machinists, AFL.

Approval of the new contract by the union membership at a meeting held Tuesday night concluded negotiations which began in February.

In addition to the "across the board" wage hike the revised contract will extend the present contract from Aug. 14, 1953 to April 30

Says Peace Depends On Compromise

U.S. Must Yield On Some Points, Is View of Sen. Cooper

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Cooper (R-Ky) said today the Eisenhower administration must be prepared to risk adverse public opinion and make limited concessions in exchange for real peace with the Communists in Asia.

Cooper, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee and former delegate to the United Nations, said the Chinese Reds are likely to "call on us for a lot of things we can't do" in negotiations for a settlement in Korea.

But he insisted in an interview that if the new administration adopts a "straight-jacket attitude' and does not yield on some points, there can be little hope for any permanent settlement.

"We cannot escape the fact that some place along the line we will have to make some concessions," Cooper said. "In my opinion that is where hope lies in the new Eisenhower administration.

"The old Truman administration had reached the point where it could make no concession of any kind to the Communists without being charged with appeasement. I hope that if the new administration becomes convinced there is a chance for a real peace it will have the courage—even against adverse public opinion—to do what is necessary to be done.

Cooper and Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont), a foreign relations committee member, said hopes for the kind of unified Korea settlement President Eisenhower has called

Say More Than 1,500 Yanks Died

POWs Tell of Brutal Treatment by Captors

TOKYO (AP)—A slow-talking sergeant from Oklahoma said tonight American soldiers were "punched with bayonets, clubbed with rifle butts and left to die" by their Communist captors on a bitter 13-day march through North Korea in subzero cold.

"I saw men that looked like they couldn't go any farther shoved over embankments and left to die," said Sgt. Odie Lawley of Medicine Park, Okla. "Lots of men just dropped while they were walking. The Communists shoved them off the road and left them to die."

Associated Press Correspondent Robert Euson reported from Munsan that a preliminary check of atrocity stories indicates more than 1,500 prisoners perished on brutal death marches and in Red prison camps.

Another young American released from Communist activity Monday at Panmunjom said Chinese Red guards hauled away to a labor camp, beat up and once bayoneted American prisoners who defied Red rule.

But, said Cpl. Donald K. LeGay of Leominister, Mass., prisoners who went along with the Communist line "got a little better treatment."

"We called them the No. boys," he added wryly at a news conference at Tokyo Army hospital. He said about "25 to 30 men" in his company of 220 men got special treatment.

A pale, thin soldier from Rome, Ga., Pfc. William R. Brock Jr., 21, said he never saw Chinese guards mistreat a United Nations prisoner in the 18 months he was a captive.

Brock said the Reds "tried to preach Communism" and camp conditions weren't good, but he saw no mistreatment.

Odie, who is suffering from malmonths at Pyoktong camp, said, "One time we had a little riot." He did not recall what started it, but said the prisoners occasionally "decided to refuse to work, wouldn't eat or fall out for roll call."

That night, he said, "they doubled the guards on us." The prisoners attended a motion picture. As it ended, the captives started to file out.

"The first three or four were bayoneted" by Chinese guards, LeGay said. "They didn't kill them—just put them in the hospital." He said the rest of the prisoners stopped and refused to go out until an English-speaking guard led the way.

Chance For Tax Relief Said Better

Foreign Aid, Arms Cuts May Pave Way, Ferguson Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) said today reported reduced foreign aid requests by President Eisenhower and sharp cuts in military spending raised prospects for a balanced budget and early tax cuts.

Ferguson referred in an interview to reports from officials that the administration has tentatively decided to cut foreign aid fund requests by two billion dollars under former President Truman's recommendation for $7,600,000,000

May Call On Reds To Free More POWs

Returnees Say Many Americans Still Held by Chinese

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—The U. N. Command tonight called for a meeting with Communist liaison officers tomorrow, touching off speculation that the Allies might again ask the Reds to return more disabled captives.

The U. N. prisoners already freed have told of many sick and injured Americans and other prisoners still in Communist prison stockades.

The official announcement said only that the meeting was called "to discuss matters in connection with the current repatriation operations."

The session is set for 10 a. m. (8 p. m. Wednesday EST), an hour after the Reds start turning over 14 more Americans and 86 other U. N. and South Korean prisoners. The exchange began Monday.

American and U. N. captives in Japan on their way home Wednesday added bitter new accounts to the stories of death in Communist stockades and on brutal marches. Associated Press Correspondent Robert Eunson said the figures add up to 1,500 dead.

The Reds, meanwhile, made propaganda capital of the sick and wounded exchange, describing prisoners returning from Allied camps as "mutilated, emaciated wrecks."

The request for Thursday's special prison session was unexpected. Full - scale negotiations on over-all prisoner exchange, the last major barrier to a Korean armistice, are to resume Saturday.

islative reference bureau on grounds it has the limited function of bill drafting.

Republican sponsors claimed economy aims for the measure, although it would put the dominant legislative party in control of the entire new bureau.

Democrats opposed the measure to a man and were joined by Sen. William H. Deddens (R-Hamilton).

Also passed by the senate was a bill appropriating $300,000 for a new state fairgrounds exposition building. Senate passage completed legislative action.

Nine minor measures were passed by the House.

But the house labor and industry committee recommended passage of a Fair Employment Practices (FEPC) Bill by an 8-7 vote. The measure by Rep. James J. Barton (R-Cuyahoga) provides for county committees to consider disputes over racial discrimination in employment. Courts could be appealed to on committee decisions and enforcement. The Barton Bill would apply only to firms with 12 or more employes.

Probers Plan 3-Day Hearing In Columbus

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Un-American Activities Subcommittee says it will look into a "number of matters" unrelated to the case of Dr. Byron T. Darling in May when it holds three days of hearings in Columbus, O.

Chairman Scherer (R-Ohio) of the subcommittee told a reporter arrangements have been completed to hold the hearings May 18, 19 and 20 in the state office building.

Neither Scherer nor Committee Chairman Velde (R-Ill) would say what the other matters involve.

Darling, an Ohio State University physicist at the time, refused to tell the committee last month whether he was a Communist.

His dismissal from the Ohio State faculty was approved April 20 by the school's trustees.

Subcommittee sources raised the possibility Darling may be recalled in the light of his recent statement that he is not and has not been a Communist.

Front Quiet Except For Air Clashes

SEOUL (AP)—U. S. Sabre jets flew double duty as fighters and bombers today as the 155-mile battle line remained relatively quiet for the third straight day.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said one group of Sabres swept north to the Yalu River hunting for Communist MIG jets while modified Sabres smashed a Red supply center on the Haeju Peninsula in fighter-bomber strikes.

The fighter Sabres fought three high-altitude duels with MIGs but made no claims of destruction or damage, the Air Force said.

Marine Panther jets destroyed 20 buildings and a heavy weapon position northwest of Suan.

Before dawn, B26 bombers reported destruction of 77 trucks and a supply buildup area five miles south of Wonsan, on Korea's east coast. Pilots said gasoline tanks went up in a chain reaction of explosions that lit the sky with orange flames.

On the ground, South Korean raiders threw a light raid at Chinese Reds north of Chorwon on the Central Front just before midnight.

The ROKs killed and wounded 50 of the Reds in a flash firefight that lasted less than five minutes, the army said.

Nineteen Chinese Reds were killed by other ROK defenders in a close-range four-hour fight on the slopes of an Allied outpost less than a mile and a half south of Panmunjom.

GOP-Backed Tidelands Bill Still Stalled

Opponents of State Ownership Demand More Senate Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Leader Taft said today he may delay until tomorrow or Friday an attempt to force a test in the Senate battle over state vs. federal ownership of oil-rich offshore lands.

The Ohio senator served notice in the Senate last night he would move tonight to table federal control and "oil for education" amendments to the pending bill to establish state ownership of lands within their historic boundaries. Such a motion is not subject to debate and would force an immediate vote. If carried, as seems certain in this case, it kills the amendments.

Opponents of state ownership cried "gag rule" and called the Taft maneuver "unjustified," "arbitrary" and "indefensible."

Taft told newsmen other senators objected so strenuously "to the time" that he may not make his motion for another day or two. He concedes that killing the amendments will not shut off debate on the bill itself. Taft has said his purpose is to show how the Senate is divided on the issue.

15-Year-Old Boy Confesses Series of Home Burglaries

A "one-boy" crime wave in Marion which included break-ins at nine residences was halted Tuesday afternoon when police took a 15-year-old boy into custody.

Police Chief Tom Coon said the youth readily admitted the burglaries, two of which were not previously reported to police.

Latest of the youth's activities was reported to police Tuesday morning by Miss Edema Koenig of 181½ W. Center St. She said her residence was broken into sometime after 12:45 p.m. Monday and was ransacked.

Police investigation revealed entrance was gained by ripping a hole in a screen door and breaking out the glass. Chief Coon said fingerprints taken from various objects in the apartment indicated it was the work of a juvenile. In addition to the ransacking the telephone wire had been cut. Only a few pennies were found missing, police said.

The 15-year old boy confessed to this burglary when questioned Tuesday afternoon, Chief Coon said.

Other break-ins he admitted included one at the Walter Hord residence at 765 Davids St. April 18; residences of Mrs. Cora Peoples at 187 Union St. and Rodney Kilbury at 267 N. Prospect St. both on April 10; of Mrs. Florence M. Moore at 145 Fairview St., and Unit 63 Veteran's Housing Project on April 11; an unidentified house on W. Columbia St.; a residence at 517½ Davids St., and another residence at 124½ E. Columbia St on April 12.

Most of the articles taken by the youth were recovered with his apprehension and he is now being held in the Marion County Detention Home pending a hearing in Juvenile Court on charges of breaking and entering. No date for the hearing has been set.

Child Leagues Of Area To Meet at Upper

Child Conservation Leagues from Marion, Richland, Crawford, Delaware, Knox and Wyandot Counties will meet for a spring district conference at Upper Sandusky Thursday.

Mrs. Charles Martin of Nevada, retiring president of the Wyandot County federation, will have charge of the conference, to be attended by more than 100 leagues and 2,000 members in this area. The session will be held in St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Mrs. Edgar Wolford of Sycamore is program chairman.

Mrs. Dorcas Winters, district president, from Upper Sandusky, will preside during the morning session. Highlight of the day will be a talk by state president, Mrs. W. Andrew Martin, of Columbus. The noon luncheon will be served in both the Lutheran and Evangelical and Reformed Churches, when music will be furnished by a brass quartet from the Sycamore School.

Speaker of the afternoon will be Miss Gertrude Mittermaier of Upper Sandusky, who will address the federation on "A Pattern for a Heart," in keeping with the theme for the day, "A Mother's Heart Is a Child's Schoolroom."

MAY BE TAXABLE

CLEVELAND (AP)—County Commissioner Henry W. Speeth has requested a study to determine whether the Ohio Turnpike can be placed on the tax duplicate here. The Turnpike Act exempts the superhighway from taxation. However, Speeth said he wondered if that does not go beyond the Ohio constitution. County Auditor John J. Carney agreed to look into the matter.

1954. The new contract became effective as of Monday, April 20. It will not be subject to reopening of negotiations until its expiration date on April 20 next year.

The negotiations began in February after the union filed a 60-day notice with the company that it wished to renegotiate the current contract.

Negotiations continued from that time between a five-man company committee headed by Gilbert Herr, president, and a six-man union shop committee headed by Jack Malone. Raymond Beverly of Marion, district business manager of the International Association of Machinists, also attended all the negotiating sessions.

Formal signing of the new contract will be sometime next week after necessary papers are drawn up, Herr reported.

for had been dimmed by reported failure of the Chinese Communists to return all ill American prisoners.

"I think in any dealings with the Communists we must hope for the best but expect the worst and the latter seems to be what we are getting," Mansfield commented.

Some of the exchanged prisoners said buddies who were more ill than they had been left behind by the Reds.

This led Chairman Short (R-Mo) of the House Armed Services Committee to demand that the Communists be required to open up the prison camps to international inspection. He said that should be a prelude to resumption of truce talks.

On the question of a permanent settlement in Korea, Cooper said his experience with the U. N. and as a State Department adviser indicates to him the Chinese Communists will demand control of Formosa, held by the Chinese Nationalists, and seek entry to the U. N. as minimum demands.

He said he did not believe the U. S. ever could agree to "put the people of Formosa under Communist domination.' But he intimated U. N. membership for the Chinese Reds might have to be considered.

Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee told the League of Women Voters last night the U. S. must not "appease' the Communists. At the same time, he said, it must not be "unwilling to make reasonable concessions."

He said proposals to set up a trusteeship over Formosa would constitute "a complete sellout of a brave friend, free China." Wiley added that to admit the Chinese Reds to the U. N. "would constitute a reward for aggression, in effect."

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) told the Senate yesterday that steps to negotiate a Korean peace ought to be taken swiftly, even without waiting for any agreement coming out of truce talks due to start Friday. Secretary of State Dulles has insisted negotiations for a final settlement must await an armistice.

Ike Meets With Security Council

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, a vacation of golf behind him, may discuss further steps in the administration's "peace offensive" against Russia with the National Security Council today.

Eisenhower returned by plane late Tuesday from Augusta, Ga., ending a rest which began April 13.

The Security Council session today gave him an opportunity to discuss plans for continuing the peace offensive he launched last Thursday.

Industries Honored At City's 1st Safety Dinner

By GARY SAMS

Marion industries were cited for outstanding safety records at the city's first annual safety award dinner and "Bosses Night" Tuesday night at the Masonic Temple. Approximately 176 persons were present.

Speaker was the Rev. Paul H. Graeser, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church at Van Wert.

Group awards were presented by J. Maynard Dickerson, vice chairman of the Industrial Commission of Ohio, to Alloy Cast Steel Co., Marion Engineer Depot, Marion Metal Products Co., and Arro Expansion Bolt Co. Accepting them were Keith Welch, superintendent at Alloy; Col. John F. Phelan, commander at the Depot; Lester Dickerson, superintendent at Marion Metal Products, and John Dugan, sales manager at Arro. The group awards were based on outstanding safety improvement over the average of the three previous years.

The Erie Railroad, New York Central System, Monsanto Chemical Co. and Arro Expansion Bolt Co. received 100 per cent awards for having no lost time accidents between Jan. 1 and Dec. 31, 1952. Presented by Will T. Blake, a member of the Industrial Commission of Ohio, they were accepted by A. G. Stine, freight agent of the Erie; Frank Robinson, freight agent of the New York Central; T. P. Tierney of Dayton, an official of Monsanto; and Dugan again for Arro.

Give Brief Talks

Both Dickerson and Blake gave short talks before handing out the awards, telling about the need for accident prevention programs.

Tim Wyant, personnel manager of McMillen Feed Mills and a member of the annual award committee who presided over the meeting, cited other industries which improved their 1952 record over the three-year previous average. He named American Malleable, Baker Wood Preserving Co., Ohio Fuel Gas Co., Harding Vocational, Ohio Edison, Osgood, Huber Manufacturing Co., Quaker Oats and McMillen Feed Mills.

These officials said the final figure submitted to Congress for new funds in the year starting July 1 will depend to some extent on whether North Atlantic Treaty nations meeting in Paris accept an American plan to stretch out their defense goals over a relatively long period.

Ferguson, a member of both the Senate Appropriations and Foreign Relations Committees, declared, "On that basis, and on the cuts we can make in trimming the fat from the military budget, we ought to balance the budget and be able to cut taxes."

Meanwhile, budget requests for $130,521,337 for the State Department are being studied for possible cuts by an appropriations subcommittee. It plans to discuss them with Secretary of State Dulles.

Ferguson complained to one State Department official yesterday about requests for his division which would reduce its payroll by 6 per cent cut in employes," Ferguson said. "I understand Dulles once had in mind cutting the State Department personnel in half."

PLANS MOSCOW CONFERENCE

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — Red China's Premier Mao Tse-Tung has completed plans for a Moscow conference with Soviet leader Georgi Malenkov to discuss cold war strategy, the Chinese Nationalist Interior Ministry's Ta Tao News Agency said today.

Observers here pointed out that when the Communists said they would return 605 U. N. prisoners, including about 120 Americans, the U. N. Command called the figure "incredibly small," since then there have been increasing indications that the Reds are not honoring their agreement to exchange all sick and wounded.

The U. N. Command was believed to have about 200 additional Chinese sick and wounded at Pusan.

The return of 14 Americans tomorrow will bring to 79 the number of U. S. soldiers freed in the exchange. Sixty-five were returned Sunday and Monday. All now are in Tokyo hospitals.

Wednesday's exchange involved 100 Republic of Korea soldiers for 500 Communists, including 150 Chinese. It brought to 700 the Chinese returned to Red rule—all that the U. N. Command said would be included in the return of 5,800 Reds for 605 Allied sick and wounded.

Wednesday's groups of Chinese went up the dusty road toward the 'Bamboo Curtain figuratively beating propaganda cymballs of happiness. A U. N. interpreter said they had been coached carefully to sing and shout slogans to prove their happiness at returning to communism.

To show their feelings toward the Allies—real staged—the Chinese ripped new uniforms given them only a few days ago, tousled their hair, threw away food rations and dropped propaganda leaflets in sight of their Communist welcome committees.

Then the Red prisoners—appearing unkempt—paraded before Communist newsreel and newspaper cameramen. One prisoner cast away his American-made crutches and hopped on his one leg into the Communist reception center.

Allied repatriates, meanwhile, told blood-chilling stories of their months behind Communist lines in North Korea.

Pvt. William G. Moreland of Atlanta told of a 300-mile march during which 411 of 700 U. N. prisoners perished. Other Americans told of at least three other marches which claimed the lives of at least 156 Americans and 700 South Koreans. A Turkish prisoner said starvation killed at least 100 Americans in his prison camp.

As returning prisoners told of hundreds dying on long marches over frozen North Korean highways and of disease and hunger a U. S. congressman demanded an international inspection of Red prison camps.

Rep. Dewey Short (R-Mo) said reports that the Reds will not exchange all sick and wounded prisoners should make inspection of their prison camps a prelude to resumption of truce talks.

Full-scale negotiations are scheduled to resume here Saturday shortly after the Communists have completed the return of 605 sick and wounded.

Widow Problem

NEW YORK (AP) — One reason there are so many widows in America is that their husbands wear down their strength in wasted motions.

Men fritter away too much of their energy doing unimportant things.

Recently I pointed out how meaningless gallantry was aging many men. There is no doubt that the thousands of times in his life the average man tips his hat to women, drags them across the street on his arm, lights their cigarets, and pushes revolving doors around for them saps his vitality.

That article made me about as popular with women as a garter snake at a ladies' aid picnic.

I hope, however, that I didn't convey the impression that living up to some of the outworn demands of chivalry was solely responsible for the fact men today don't last as long as women.

There are other factors perhaps even more important in undermining masculine health. The little lost motions—the waste motions—he makes on his own time help age him, too.

Take the matter of putting on shoes. Suppose a boy starts putting on his shoes at the age of 5, and keeps it up until 70. In that time he will bend over and tie his shoes nearly 25,000 times. Each time—at least after 40—the blood falls down into his head—bong! He straightens up red-faced, grunting, and panting.

A woman is more sensible. She merely slips her feet into her slippers. No lost motions. Why can't men wear shoes like that?

Take shaving. It requires about 200 razor strokes. If a man shaves every day for 50 years, that means 3,650,000 arm movements. Naturally, anything you do 3,650,000 times is going to shorten your life.

Science needs to do something about getting rid of men's beards once and for all. Probably the same is true of scalp hair. As it is now, when a man's hair starts getting thin, the more madly and desperately he combs it, thus cutting down his life expectancy.

Take the matter of conversation. Women are supposed to talk more than men. But do they really? The truth is women get the most mileage out of their vocal chords for the time they use them. They use conversation either for relaxing gossip or to deliver an important message to their husbands from his sponsor—themselves.

The typical feminine greeting is an efficient quarter-inch smile. But a man? He breaks out in a rash of gobbledegook, such as "How're yuh?" and "Whaddaya know," and "What's new?" He does this, over and over, all day long, making unimportant noises with his mouth when he should be resting it.

MARSEILLES CLUB ELECTS

Favorite signs of spring was the roll call topic at a meeting of the Marseilles Mothers Club recently at the home of Mrs. Jeannette Barrett near Marseilles. The president, Mrs. Ellen Emptage welcomed Mrs. Elizabeth Howe a a new member. A contribution wa voted to the cancer campaign. The following officers were elected Mrs. Adrena Bell, president; Mrs Marjorie Wolford, vice president; Mrs. Viola Albert, recording secretary; Mrs. Charlotte Leeth, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Irma Snavely, treasurer; Mrs. Bertha Mae Rose, reporter. Refreshments were served.

By Hal Boyle

Take exercise. Only middle-aged men are foolish enough to believe it keeps them healthy to zoom up their blood pressure in a hot sun swinging a tennis racquet or following the spoor of a golf ball. A mature woman has the wisdom of a lady tiger in a zoo. She knows she can get all the exercise she needs merely by stretching.

In this world every motion you make takes its invisible toll. Women know this by instinct. They make their motions count. And it is the lost motions of their husbands, spendthrift of energy, that leaves them widows.

When I told my wife about this theory, Frances said:

"Poor thing. Would it help any if I lathered and shaved you every morning?"

It might. But there are too many mornings when a husband doesn't feel like trusting his wife with the razor.

May Be 5 Years, Senator Reports

Says Cities Face Delay In Getting TV Stations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) said today many U. S. cities will wait five years for television unless Congress sharply increases funds for processing applications for TV stations.

He invited his Senate colleagues by letter to join in a drive to give the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) an extra $1,600,000 instead of the $435,000 boost now proposed, to clear up the TV backlog by the middle of next year.

Some senators immediately said they would help. Most members of Congress have been under pressure from their home areas to try to speed up action on TV applications.

The extra money asked by Johnson would give the FCC 40 additional hearing examiners with the necessary assistants.

Rosel H. Hyde, the new FCC chairman, told the Senate Commerce Committee yesterday it would take the 12 examiners now employed at least five years to clean up the 600 pending cases.

Today's Prayer

Our Father, we bring our thanks and gratitude to Thee for all Thy goodness and mercy to us, and for the many blessings that Thou dost give us from day to day.

Forgive us our shortcomings as a nation and as people. Strengthen us, that we may do better in the future, forgetting the things which are behind and pressing forward to the things which are before—the goal, "the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." Amen.

Public Housing Program To Be Killed Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Democrats tuned their ears to the White House today, hoping that some word from President Eisenhower might save the public housing program from a GOP-dug grave.

But they didn't really expect to hear anything before the House votes, late today, on a Republican recommendation that no new public housing projects be started after July 1.

This recommendation is embodied in an appropriation bill providing $451,023,493 to finance 23 independent executive agencies for the government year starting July 1. The amount is about 61 per cent, or $721,423,697, less than former President Truman requested in his January budget. Most of the cut is in civil service retirement funds, and some Democrats call it a phony one, contending the money will have to be voted later.

A request that the President make clear his position on public housing was made yesterday by Rep. McCormack of Massachusetts, assistant Democratic leader. Rep. Cotton (R-NH), an appropriations committee member, had said it would not "offend" the President if the program was killed.

"I haven't been able to find one single word to show that he (the President) values this socialistic experiment highly," Cotton said.

McCormack replied that every "progressive piece of legislation" of the past 20 years has been labeled "socialism" by some Republicans. He said it is incumbent on Eisenhower to state his position.

Estimate $650 Damage In Galion Blaze

Special to The Star

GALION — Fire damage was estimated at $650 to the equipment shed of Weithman Brothers, contractors, here Tuesday.

Firemen answered the call at 3:45 a.m. The blaze was discovered by James Deisch who lives near the building. Siding of the building and tarpaulin canvas burned, firemen said. It was believed that sparks from an acetylene torch, used about 4:30 p.m. Monday, fell on the tarpaulins and smoldered. The building is frame construction with asbestos shingles. The blaze was extinguished in 50 minutes.

Murder Jury Frees Woman At Circleville

CIRCLEVILLE (AP)—The acquittal of Mrs. Mary Agnes Ruff, 34-year-old redhaired farm wife, on first-degree murder charges was a popular courtroom verdict.

When the jury of seven men and five women announced their decision Tuesday night less than two hours after they received the case, the spectators burst into cheers and applause.

Foreman Gerold Crites said the jury took only one ballot and the vote was unanimous for acquittal.

Mrs. Ruff, mother of three children, was charged with the murder of her husband, Daniel E. Ruff Jr., 35, in their South Bloomfield home last Jan. 15. She pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity.

Mrs. Ruff had collapsed and fainted on the witness stand Tuesday. She said after the verdict was announced:

"I'm so happy — so very happy. I feel grateful toward everyone."

Well wishers crowded around her to offer congratulaions. Mrs. Ruff alternately laughed and cried. Then she embraced her children, Sandra 6; Daniel, 5, and Mrs. Rosemary Manahan, 16, a daughter by a previous marriage. They had been kept in the office of one of her attorneys during the trial.

Attorney Joseph W. Adkins said Mrs. Ruff had no definite plans for the future but would spend the next few weeks recuperating from the ordeal of the trial.

Here We Go Again

According to sober legal opinion, it will be possible to stall off for another year the effect of a long-delayed registration order against the Communist party by the Subversive Activities Control Board.

This order would force the Communist organization to register as the agency of a foreign government, listing all its members and resources. It would establish once and for all the status of each party member as an agent of the Soviet Union.

The Subversive Activities Control Board bases its order, obviously, on the behavior of the Communist party in the United States since the close of World War I. The party never has departed from a policy of slavish obedience to the Kremlin. The order, itself, has been pending more than two years. With another year to go while lawyers grapple with one another, the members of the party will have had ample time to get everything in order before disappearing underground, having destroyed all records. Many of the old-timers will have died before they can be inconvenienced.

It is interesting to note that the Communist party always has been assumed to be guilty, even in 1933 when diplomatic recognition of the Soviet Union by the United States was arranged in an exchange of letters between Franklin D. Roosevelt and Maxim Litvinov, then Soviet commissar of foreign affairs.

Roosevelt demanded and received from Litvinov a pledge that the indisputable right of the United States to be free from interference by any organization dominated by the Soviet Union would be respected. That pledge was never respected. It referred to the Communist party.

Communists in the United States, some homegrown and some shipped in from abroad, persistently plotted to overthrow this government; convictions were sought and obtained on that charge. Yet, it is going to take at least another year, more federal funds and a few more hundred thousand words of legal palaver to establish something one doubted as long ago as

Peace Picture

By David Lawrence

Humphrey Knocks Down Fears of Depression

Nothing could please the Kremlin more than to have its constant propaganda against capitalism confirmed by the oft-repeated comment that the United States and its allies have a vested interest in war and really fear the coming of peace.

The behavior of the Stock Market, which started dipping downward recently when the first moves of the Soviet peace maneuver were revealed, has misled many people into believing that peace would bring a business depression. What many people fail to realize is that the Stock Market reflects short-term rather than long-range trends and that it also reflects uncertainty due to lack of information at the moment concerning the meaning of world events.

The administration sent the secretary of the Treasury, George Humphrey, to New York to deliver a speech at the annual luncheon of the Associated Press and, though the arrangements for the address were made some time ago, it was natural that Mr. Humphrey should take advantage of the opportunity to answer questions about the "fear of peace."

"We are not going to have a depression in America," said the Treasury secretary, "whether we have an armistice, a real peace, or continue to develop a proper and balanced posture of defense. There is no reason for a depression unless we fail ourselves to do the things we ought to do and lack the courage and foresight to do them.

"There will be readjustments, of course. There are always readjustments taking place in any active economy, sometimes to the advantage or detriment of one group and sometimes to another. But depression, no. We cannot preserve our way of life through another long, deep depression and we must never permit it to occur.'

There, in a nutshell, is the whole economic philosophy of the Eisenhower administration. Government will use its emergency powers and its immense powers over credit and money and its lending experience to stave off a depression if one is threatened. But Mr. Humphrey pointed out that a reduction in spending for armament today is not likely to produce as drastic an impact on the national economy as it did when World War II ended in 1945, and total government expenses came down from $98.7 billion in 1945 to $49.3 billion in 1947.

He pointed out that defense $16.8 billion, plus about $5 billion in foreign aid.

When the drop, therefore, in defense and foreign-aid spending can go from $90.5 billion to approximately $21 billion in two years and the economy does not suffer a depression, it confirms the underlying strength and flexibility of the American business structure.

The secretary of the Treasury reminded his audience and the country that America makes its greatest strides in peacetime and that the trend always is toward "more and better goods at less cost for more people."

This is the outlook for thoughtful business men who have appraised accurately the meaning of the gradually increasing population in terms of demand as well as the increased productivity of labor and machines.

Mr. Humphrey is right when he says that peace is not to be feared but really should be welcomed from a business standpoint, for no country today can for any length of time support an unbalanced economy — unbalanced, that is, by a disproportionate amount of labor and resources that go into the unproductive spending for war or preparation for war.

The Treasury secretary gave hope that there would soon be a reduction of spending and tax reduction, too, but did not specify dates.

"As long as we maintain," he said, "the soundness of our money; attain that nice balance between achieving security from aggression and maintaining economic strength; eliminate waste and handle our fiscal affairs with wisdom, America can look forward to good jobs at good pay and real advances in the scale of living. We can have a stronger economy based on sounder fundamental conditions than we have known in many years."

The theory back of that statement is a simple one — the people general[illegible] can spend their money for their own account and in their own way for what they want much better than the government can spend it for them.

That's the doctrine which the secretary of the Treasury proclaimed. It is as old as the law of supply and demand. It's the sturdiest principle in the individual enterprise system. It has built up America under a citizen's capitalism to greater strength than any system of state capitalism or socialism that has yet been tried throughout

Out of Step on Bricker Amendment

By Raymond Moley

It is always dangerous to argue by drawing historical analogies, but since Attorney-General Brownell has gone back to the 18th century for material against the Bricker Amendment, let us accompany him there for a moment.

After the Constitution of the United States had been written in 1787 and when a fierce fight over its adoption was in progress, its sponsors found the most dangerous argument against it to be its omission of a bill of rights.

Alexander Hamilton, arguing for the adoption, declared a bill of rights to be unnecessary. He pointed out that the Constitution of the State of New York had no bill of rights and also that all proper rights were safeguarded in the the Executive Department." But in the next breath he asks us to infer that such treaties would not "be submitted by the president to the Senate."

In short, we are asked to assume that all presidents hereafter will submit only good treaties, despite the fact that past presidents have submitted many bad treaties to the Senate.

Brownell then says that a new amendment is "unusual." This, indeed, is an extraordinary objection. He says, too, that a new amendment is "unnecessary." So did Hamilton say that a bill of rights was "unnecessary."

Finally, Brownell says that such an amendment "may be unexpectedly damaging." And he cites

The fact is that the Bricker Amendment provides protection against impairing by treaty sound provisions for the regulation of domestic affairs. It provides that Congress may by law expressly authorize matters in which a treaty regulates domestic concerns.

Where is there damage in permitting Congress by action of both Houses to regulate our lives in a constitutional manner?

It is interesting that opposition to this amendment centers in New York. The Bar Association of that city, some influential newspapers, Senator Lehman (not Senator Ives) and now the two New York Cabinet officers oppose it.

Golf Inquiry

Q—Now then Mr. President, we are conducting this investigation to find out why golf has such a grip on you.

A—If you find out I hope you will let me know. It puzzles me, too.

Q—When did you first notice the strange attraction the game had for you?

A—All I know is that it had been latent in me for a long time.

Q—Why didn't you play it earlier?

A—I couldn't even get a smooth backswing until I got out of my tight army uniform.

Q—What is the importance of breaking 90? Why is a single stroke so vital?

A—It is the difference between mediocrity and genius, triumph and despair, victory or defeat, happiness or sorrow. A golfer who comes in with a 90 is just another golfer. Let him come in with an 89 and he becomes a man of distinction and a candidate for the club presidency.

Q—Do you have trouble breaking 90?

A—Breaking the enemy front line in Europe seemed less complicated.

Q—Mr. President, how often have you done 18 holes in 89 or better?

A—You'd be surprised by the record . . . and so would I.

Q—Do you often shoot over 100?

A—I refuse to answer that question on the ground it might tend to incriminate and degrade me, although I still think the greens keepers and golf course architects should bear some of the responsibility.

Q—You take refuge behind the Fifth Amendment?

A—Gentlemen, when a golfer shoots over 100 he takes refuge behind the Fifth Amendment, the Bill of Rights, the Geneva Convention, the Potsdam Agreement, the Monroe Doctrine, the Mayflower Covenant and the Charter on the United Nations.

Q—To go back into your record and trace this entry of golf into your life, did you play golf when you were stationed in the Philippines

A—No, I was very unhappy there for other reasons.

Q—Did you play any golf in Europe

A—I got over a big waterhole there, but not with golf clubs.

Q—Do you think a man can be both a good golfer and a good president in the present state of the world

A—A lot depends on the present state of the golf courses.

Q—Don't you think that perhaps golf interferes with a proper consideration of the Russian situation?

A—No. If I could handle my brassie as well as I can handle Malenkov I would be very happy indeed.

All Doubt Removed

Though the horrible word is being avoided, a "filibuster" has developed in the U.S. Senate over the bill to establish title of submerged lands in the states.

This particular talkathon is historic.

Its participants are senators who have been impatient about filibustering as the last resort of southerners opposed to proposals for overriding state sovereignty.

But when the shoe is on the other foot, as it is in the submerged-lands bill, these same senators are just as willing to maintain a filibuster as any old-school southerner.

Suddenly, they can see plainly what never was plain to them before — that the filibuster is a minority-defense device which can keep a majority from riding roughshod over its opposition.

Between gasps for breath in a knock-down-and-drag-out argument, they must be congratulating one another on never having been able to get rid of the filibuster.

Henceforth, their yelps of disapproval never will be taken seriously again. They never really wanted to get rid of the filibuster, but only of southerners who used filibusters to block federal domination of the states.

The Hardiest Perennial

An item of unfinished political business which promises to stay that way is the claim that union executives can swing the "labor vote."

After the latest election, it seemed impossible the claim ever would be made again. The union executives who had dictated the nomination of Adlai Stevenson and dictated the decision to spend vast sums of their membership's funds on his campaign had been given the ultimate rebuke—the coup de grace.

That was the background of Sen. Taft's astonishment when one of the executives was appointed to head the Department of Labor. The senator could not understand what Martin Durkin had done to deserve recognition.

But minds which claimed to be wiser and more forgiving than the logical mind of Sen. Taft came up with the idea that other union executives would be favorably impressed by a gesture of political appeasement. This would have a tendency to disarm them in their long, savage battle against the Republican party, it was argued.

Victor Riesel now reports the beginning of an AFL drive to collect a dollar apiece from every member for the express purpose of electing a Democratic majority in Congress in 1954.

The hardiest perennial in politics is the notion that a few unionists with axes to grind can persuade millions of unionists to turn their grindstones. The AFL money-collecting drive is an old gag to terrorize rabbity politicos. The CIO and AFL scarcely collect enough money to pay for running off the press releases.

Cow People

By TRUMAN TWILL

If I owned a cow and it shouldn't happen to either me or the cow — I'd listen to something that was said in Millersburg, county seat of Holmes County, in the midst of Ohio's prime dairy-farming region.

About a thousand cow-owners and sympathizers met in Millersburg to exchange viewpoints. They had brought together a panel of experts who presumably knew more about the milk situation than any of the listeners could know all by himself.

They listened to the experts. One of the suggestions that rung the dinner bell was about advertising —that if dairymen worked as hard at sales promotion as brewers they wouldn't be saddled with a price-depressing surplus of bottle-grade milk.

The cold fact of the matter is, there's nothing so intrinsically good for people that they will rush to buy it without some encouragement. Certainly no one ever claimed, even at the height of a sales-promotion campaign, that either beer or cigarets were as good for human beings as first-class milk. Yet, the beer and cigaret people have gone after the consumers' dollars with all the energy at their command.

Even their advertising of brand names, despite such bonehead fumbles as the nonsense about one kind of cigarets being less harmful than all the other kinds, has been mutually helpful as far as selling cigarets was concerned.

And as for beer, it has been exploited so energetically in connection with baseball that the name of the national pastime may be changed to beerball.

That's what the milk people are beginning to think about — exploitation of a product which meets with a lot less sales resistance than any other beverage on earth, except water.

For generations, dairymen have been concentrating on better cattle, higher standards, a better product. But with rare exceptions, the people who produce the milk have nothing to do with selling what they produce. They leave that to someone else.

It's as though the people who brewed all those rivers of beer and made all those millions of cigarets were relying on someone else to get rid of their outpout. Someone would get stuck with that kind of an arrangement.

That's why if I owned a cow and had any surplus milk to sell I'd listen to what a thousand people with an interest in the dairy industry heard at Millersburg.

I'd be trying to figure out a way to make it easier for more people to drink more milk and to use more of all the other dairy products. I wouldn't concede that the beer people or the cigaret people were any smarter than the cow people.

I would think about selling milk in ball parks and making it a fad to nibble a wedge of American cheddar to sooth the nerves. I'd be figuring out a way to get butter out of storehouses where the politicians put it and back on the American dinner table, where dairymen know it should be.

I'd be looking for ways and means to stimulate the demand to catch up to a milk supply that is ringing tribute to dairymen's ingenuity and a rebuke to the inadequacy of sales and distribution.

I'd be interested even if I didn't own a cow — and I don't.

Constitution as it stood.

His effort to prove this idea of an "inferential" protection of rights was not one of his best performances, but the validity of his argument need not occupy us here. Hamilton was overruled, and we have found our Bill of Rights comfortably to live with for 162 years.

A major reason why Hamilton was overruled was the strenuous opposition of Thomas Jefferson, who was resident in France until 1789 but who was kept informed by James Madison. He said in 1787 that the Constitution just written contained for him "a bitter pill or two." His objections were to the omission of a bill of rights and any provision for rotation in office, particularly in the case of the president.

The latter defect waited until the ratification of the 22nd Amendment in 1951. The former was corrected in 1791.

In a letter to Madison in 1789, Jefferson protested against the Hamilton claim that rights were already protected. He did not, he said, want a government to "rest upon inferences." And I think that most people now agree with him.

Brownell apparently does not. His dependence on "inferences" in his long argument against the Bricker Amendment is almost complete.

He admits that the 64 senators who sponsored the amendment and the American Bar Association's lawyers have done a wonderful job in pointing out the dangers in a lot of treaties now awaiting final action. And he says that it was Bricker's "tireless activity" that checked this dangerous trend "in damages possible not under the Bricker Amendment but under the Watkins Amendment.

Bill of Rights was in New York. Somebody is out of step.

Twin Routes, One Goal

By MARK DANA

Re-elected as Moderator of the Presbytery of New York City—hence the spiritual leader and administrator of that city's member churches of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.—the Rev. Dr. Paul Austin Wolfe immediately urged church people of all faiths to become alert citizens on week-days.

Become active in politics, he proposed; help eliminate "the lack of cleanliness in our city streets, the inadequacy of our police force, the lawlessness which pervades the waterfront," he implored. The "thinking and conduct of individual citizens," evidence the validity of church credos, he contended.

Simultaneously in Brooklyn, New York's Borough of Churches, the Union Presbyterian Church was in ferment over details cited by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. John Paul Jones, for practicing his own concept of "the social gospel."

For years, the Methodist Church has been prodded by an unofficial internal element called the Methodist Committee for Social Action to make the denomination active in all phases of domestic and international affairs, including housing, employment, racial integration, politics, government, foreign policies, labor matters, and other civic interests. There are elements within some other denominations similarly articulate.

Probably every Protestant clergyman faces and endeavors to meet this continuing dilemma of just how and when and to what extent he should participate personally and have his church participate in civic affairs, the everyday problems of citizens, the non-spiritual concerns of the community.

There is no pat answer, of course, and the opposing schools of thought usually work out a reasonably harmonious compromise. Over-simplified, hence not entirely valid due to extremisms, one school wants the church to restrict its actions and utterances to straight religious and spiritual matters; the other wants churches and pastors to deal with all of man's worldly, week-day and living issues.

Washington in Tourist Season

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON

Mother Nature, wardrobe mistress for the capital's annual No. 1 attraction, missed her cue and dressed her leading ladies, the cherry trees, too soon, but a record crowd of half a million launched the tourist season undismayed. There was plenty to do and still plenty to see, and the visitors—100,000 more than last year —swarmed over a city already throbbing with unusual activity.

The festival, with Mrs. Eisenhower crowning the pretty Cherry Blossom queen at the Jefferson Memorial, was held without its backdrop of pink bloom. Young and old stood in long patient lines to inspect Washington monuments and bulged the sight-seeing buses. capitol buildi.g, said guides were "worked to death" and that this year for tourists is "the granddaddy" of all the years since he went to the capital in 1923. Some 3,000 to 4,000 have gone through the domed-building daily.

White House police, counting more than 34,000 heads in eight hours of open house, said this was an all-time high too. Staggering numbers visited the Lincoln Memorial, the Smithsonian Institution, the National Gallery, the Library of Congress. More than 5,300 went to the top of the Washington Monument; more than 2,000 climbed the stairs.

Washington big-wigs and socialites had their hands full with their own affairs. The diplomatic set was feting Dr. Konrad Adenauer, chancellor of the Federal Republic of Germany. The German charge d'affaires and Mrs. Heinz Krekeler gave a huge reception for their vigorous 77-year-old leader and his daughter, Lotte, a doctor of philosophy who teaches German history in a Bonn high school. Lotte wore a simple dark green, short-sleeved suit and black calot to this dressy affair.

At the same time there was merrymaking at the Luxembourg Legation, where several hundred more were drinking champagne toasts to His Highness Prince Jean of Luxembourg and his bride. Princess Josephine-Charlotte of Belgium. To add to the confusion, there were a half dozen clergymen in the throng here, including the apostolic delegate, Amleto Cicognani ;a couple of blue and white-garbed nuns from Hamburg, Germany; a tall, dark man who someone said was a former European heavyweight champion, and the Cherry Blossom princess from Arizona.

Also the same day the snooty Arts Club held its annual costume ball at a downtown hotel with such characters as Tom Sawyer, Abe Lincoln, "Churchy la Femme," and the "Egg and I" giving out-of-towners a touch of the nightmare.

McCarthy

By George Sokolsky

Some time ago I was asked to sign a document praising Senator McCarthy. I declined because I dislike petitions, joint statements and similar mass expressions. I prefer to roll my own. The document in question was eventually published and showed that 28 distinguished colleagues felt that the newspapers were giving Joe a raw deal.

SOKOLSKY

I beg to differ. On the whole, the press has done well by the senator, except a few papers slanted toward what their owners call liberalism, but which no thoughtful person could recognize as such. The proof is that few men in this country are more popular or more hated.

-:-

IN A WORD, McCarthy's views and procedures are known, and understood, which is more than can be said about many public figures these days. He is the most reported man in the country.

Those who hate McCarthy have two arguments:

1—While they favor his targets, they abhor his methods.

So, such an impolite person as myself interrupts the conversation to inquire what are his methods to which they object. After much heated argument, it comes down to a statement that he smears innocent people. Whereupon, I ask for the names of the innocents.

During three years of this sort of thing in every part of the country, I have never once heard of an innocent person who has been smeared by Sen. MCarthy.

BY SMEAR is meant a process of giving a man a black name without justification in fact. After all, each human being makes his own record as he moves through life.

Each one has to expect his record, good or bad, to have public presentation, perhaps at an embarrassing moment. That does not mean that errors cannot be corrected or that a person cannot admit to having erred and cannot express regret and prove by subsequent conduct that the contrition is not a matter of expediency.

No American has been "smeared" for Communist affiliations or associations. There is no case on record of a person called to testify before the McCarthy, McCarran, or Jenner committees or the House Committee on un-American Activities who was not fight Communism and has diverted it to his own uses; that he receives money for his campaigns which he embezzles for private purposes.

I have not examined Sen. McCarthy's finances, but they were examined by a Democratic committee of the Senate. He has turned over all his books, check-books, income tax statements.

His private records have been finecombed. And what was being sought was not evidence for his expulsion from the Senate, but an offense for which he could be indicted and convicted and sent to prison.

These investigations leave him untouched. Surely if the Truman administration could have found a single bit of evidence, they would have had him indicted.

And it is not at all impossible that some of McCarthy's Republican colleagues, if there were evidence of crookedness, would have exposed the senator.

YET, IN MORE than two years of investigation of his private life, nothing has shown up except that he accepted a fee of $10,000 from the Lustron Corporation to write a pamphlet on prefabricated housing.

There can be no doubt that McCarthy should not have taken the job of writing that pamphlet, leaving such chores to professionals. But the fee is not too large, according to professional standards. Also, there never was a secret about it.

It can be argued that no senator should have any extra-curricular activities, but if one wants to say that about writing pamphlets, what about lectures at $1,000 or $1,500 a piece, a now popular and lucrative activity for public men? This is neither a legal nor a moral question; it is a matter of taste.

I must say that thus far no one has established the fact that Sen. McCarthy is a crook. Therefore, his opponents, being without sound arguments, offer vituperatives. That is their privilege.

MEMBERS of the Burroughs Nature Club were joined by guests for a picture tour of nature trails in the Appalachian Mountains and foothills Monday evening in the community room of the West Town Branch Bank. The speaker, A. S. Kiefer of Columbus, was joined by Mrs. Kiefer in presenting colored slides taken by them on their many tours and hikes in search of beauty and the unusual in nature at various seasons of the year. Mr. Kiefer, whose wife shares his interest in the outdoors, is a member of the teaching staff at North High School in Columbus. Clubwomen Center Interest on Coming Antique Show, Sale

With the season's activities drawing to a close, interest of the members of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs is centering on the antiques sale display to be held May 15, 16 and 17 at the Coliseum.

Tickets for the three-day event, sponsored by the Federation, are now in the hands of clubwomen and a report of progress in the plans was made by Mrs. W. H. Pohler Jr., chairman, at the monthly meeting of the Federation executive board Tuesday at the Women's Club Home.

Patrons will find a wide variety of articles in the displays offered by dealers booked for the sale which will be conducted each day from 1 to 10 p.m. Clubwomen will be asked to assist by contributing flowers, serving as hostesses, selling tickets and with their patronage.

Considerable time was devoted to a report on proposed changes in the Federal constitution presented by Mrs. Paul Knauss, chairman of the committee and a past Federation president. The measure will be voted on at the next meeting. A proposal to have a speaker present the subject of departmental work in the Federation was accepted. Other business included the purchase of reading records for the sight-saving class at George Washington School. Mrs. J. Edwin Probst, president, and Mrs. Stuart J. Mills, first vice president, were named delegates to the state convention to be held in May at Cleveland.

Inside Labor

Two Telecasts

By Victor Riesel

Just about the time President Eisenhower was laying it on the line in his televised put-up-or-shut-up challenge to the new Russian government, CIO president Walter Reuther was heading East for a folsky television appearance on the Kate Smith show, which gets itself almost as wide a network as a presidential appearance.

RIESEL

There are links between these two telecasts which I'd like to trace for you, step by step, since they lead to national stories which will shake parts of this country soon enough. We start best, I believe, in a closed conference room in Washington's Hotel Statler on the morning of April 7th. Therein were gathered the men who have recently taken over the national leadership of virtually all the nation's unionists.

-:-

THEY WERE there to talk about merging the AFL and CIO into one giant political - industrial coalition of some 13,000,000 members — a great force which, if centrally directed, could not only take over much of the Democratic party, but not inconceivably deprive President Eisenhower of control of Congress in 1954.

But also of concern to such men in that room as Walter Reuther and George Meany was the harassing problem of the effect on their unions of the shift from a defense economy to a peace time economy.

If there were to be cut backs and unemployment, each of these powerful leaders wanted some planning for "peacetime" jobs for the millions who look to them for leadership. So they met there with their colleagues to talk of bolstering each other in the unbalanced period which seemed ahead.

There was, however, one matter which had to be wiped off the record before they talked about their own labor peace.

-:-

AFL CHIEF George Meany raised the subject. He wanted to know why CIO president Walter Reuther had said publicly that the CIO would not join the AFL until the racketeers were driven out. This insinuated that the AFL was lead by mobsters, Meany claimed.

Reuther said he had been misquoted by the newsmen. The CIO chief insisted he had laid down no conditions for a merger with the AFL.

Then other CIO leaders jumped in to point out that Reuther made the controversial speech at an Auto Union convention and that this conference was between the AFL and CIO — not between the AFL and the Auto Workers. Reuther agreed.

Then, with characteristic bluntness, Meany stated in effect:

"Okay, we start from scratch, no conditions on either side. Let's do something about the raiding of AFL and CIO unions in each other's territory. Let's get up committees to report pretty fast. Then we'll arrange a truce — and talk about integration and merger of the AFL and CIO in June."

THE MEN on each side — hard, practical men who lead the working prople in the very core of American industry — all jumped in with pledges of friendship. A subcommittee was appointed and the session wound up jovially.

The new found fraternalism sprang from the feeling that they had at least established one thing —they would not for a while have to fight off raids by other unions in a confused period when possible transition to peace would absorb their energies, imagination and funds.

That's the way it was for nine days. Then came the Eisenhower speech — tough and disdainful of appeasement.

The Russia.. bear trap had been set, but the old golf shoes were not being caught. It was obvious that there would be no wide cutbacks, no vital change in mass production for defense. This was the breather the national labor leaders needed.

ALL UNION chiefs with national bailiwicks then decided to plan new organizing drives for strength in other fields so any future cutback would not catch them with their members in any one industry.

The most dramatic of these projects appears to be the CIO's soon-to-be unveiled "Target Organizing" drive.

Although the first target will be selected at a high CIO conference on April 21, Reuther and his vice presidents already have decided to throw some $3,000,000 into the campaign for white collar workers, chemical workers, auto salesmen, retail clerks, Southern plants or whatever seems most profitable.

The $3,000,000 has been spent in

GLAD TIDINGS. Mrs. Ruth Fidler and her brother, Jackson Ludlum, are jubilant as they receive word in Fort Wayne, Ind., that their brother, Cpl. David Ludlum, of Company B, 38th Infantry Regiment, was among the 30 Americans in the first prisoner exchange at Panmunjom, Korea.

Now this money will be concentrated directly on organizing and public relations.

Every non-union industry will be scrutinized. Every means of getting to the public will be used. So we find Reuther on Kate Smith's program talking to the housewives in the opening moments of Project "Target Organizing." Watch it unfold!

Galion Woman Suffers Cuts

Clara Elva Kelly, 74, of Galion, was treated by a Galion physician after her auto crashed into a ditch on the Jackson Road, in Morrow County, about four miles south of Galion, Tuesday night.

According to the local state highway patrol post, the accident occurred at 7:30 p.m. when the Galion woman attempted a right turn and drove the car into a ditch at the right side of the road.

She suffered a laceration of the left eyebrow and a cut on the left knee.

Sign Petition Seeking Vote on Tax Cut Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two more House members, Representatives Fallon (D-Md) and Machrowitz (D-Mich), have signed a petition to force an early vote on a bill which would cut income taxes by 10 per cent on July 1.

House rules provide that the names of signers be kept secret until 218 have signed. It was learned that the number has now reached 37, including Rep. Poulson (R-Calif), who signed some time ago but whose name was not previously disclosed.

Aids Students to Find Right Work, Cuts Down on School Withdrawals

New Job Counseling Program Found Helpful

By EVELYN KRISTOFF

A job counseling program conducted by the U. S. Employment Service has helped cut down the number of students withdrawing from high school, Marion school officials believe.

The program was instituted the latter part of the first semester of this school year when school and employment service officials became concerned over the great amount of employment turnover among an increasing number of students quitting school to go to work.

Predominant reasons for a youngster wanting to quit school and get a job are family and financial distress and lack of interest in school, Pupil Personnel Director Joseph Whisler's records indicate.

Before a child can drop out of school, Ohio law specifies that he must be 16 years old and have completed the seventh grade of school.

In explaining how the new system works, Whisler said that a student who has a job lined up comes to the pupil personnel office to apply for a working certificate.

While talking with the student, Whisler determines if the job is in harmony with the student's interests and abilities. If there is any doubt in his mind about the suitability of the prospective job, Whisler refers the youngster to the employment service.

There an appointment is made for the student to take a battery of interest and aptitude tests. Results of these tests, in conjunction with information learned from a pre-employment record card sent to the employment service by the pupil personnel office, enable the employment counslor to guide the student to a job placement to the mutual advantage of the student and the employer.

Darl Gatchell, assistant principal of Harding High School, who has been assisting the pupil personnel office with the pre-counseling interviews of prospective high school drop-outs, is just as high in praise of the new system.

"The employment service program puts the students more in an adult situation, away from the customary parent-teacher relationship," Gatchell said, "and serves as a stepping-stone to the job situations they will soon encounter."

Results of the nwe aptitude evaluating program have not been limited to better job placements, Whisler points out, but have also extended to decisions by several youngsters to remain in school and become better qualified for jobs for which the tests revealed they possessed special aptitudes.

With the enthusiasm shown by all three groups involved—school personnel, employment service officials, and students—the aptitude testing and counseling program looks like it's here to stay.

"Family Night" Marked By Glenwood PTA

"Family Night," was observed when the Glenwood School PTA met Tuesday night at the school. A potluck supper preceded the meeting. Also during the evening, open house was held during which parents visited the rooms.

The award for the most parents present went to Mrs. Viola Rinnert's first grade room. For the program, Miss Margaret Craig and Robert Peach, elementary physical education teachers, presented the sixth grade girls and boys in a tumbling demonstration.

An announcement was made of the pre-school clinic to be held Friday, May 1, in the school auditorium.

Construction At State St., Pearl St. Totals $329,372

Contracts on low bids totaling $329,372 for construction of additions to State St. Junior High School and Pearl St. Elementary School were awarded at a meeting of the Marion Board of Education held Tuesday night.

Lester L. Dickey, president of the board, said work on the projects will begin immediately and will be finished within a year.

Addition at the State St. Junior High School will be a combination gymnasium and auditorium and a two-story addition at the Pearl St. School will include two classrooms and a multi-purpose room.

Lowest of five bids for the general contracting was submitted by the Knowlton Construction Co. of Dayton which bid $245,300.

Terry P. Smith of Lima submitted a low of $66,047 for the plumbing and heating contract. His bid was one of five submitted for the contract.

A low bid of $18,025 was submitted by the Triple Service Co. of Marion for the electrical contract. It was also one of five bids.

Architects for the additions are McLaughlin and Keil of Lima. They were represented at Tuesday night's meeting by John Keil.

Other companies which submitted bids were: Baldauf Construction Co., Marion Contracting Co., Steward Construction Co., and Focht Brothers of Tiffin on general contracting; Carl's Plumbing and Heating, Peacock Brothers, Inc., E. W. File and Sons of Lima, and Wisser and Gabler Co. of Chillicothe, on plumbing and heating; and Persha Electric Co. of Columbus, Cochran Electric Co., of Mt. Vernon, Strasser and Son of Upper Sandusky, and Wente Construction Co. of Hamilton, on the electrical work.

Coconut Mailed From Guam By Former Recruiter

Walter Guthrie, clerk of the Marion County Commissioners, has received a large coconut through the mail from Guam.

The coconut was sent to Mr. Guthrie by Chief J. A. Sykes, former Navy recruiter who was stationed in Marion for two years before leaving for Guam a year ago.

Contested Beatty Will May Not Be Heard Until Fall

Hearing on the petition filed Friday in Common Pleas Court by 16 cousins of Mrs. Olive A. Beatty, asking that her last will and testament admitted to probate in December be set aside, probably can not be scheduled until this fall, the court officials reported today.

Mrs. Beatty, who died Oct. 29, 1952 leaving an estate appraised at $59,342, bequeated a fund of approximately $37,000 for the "purpose of providing aid to animals of all kinds, particularly cats and birds."

The cousins, who claim they are Mrs. Beatty's heirs at law and next of kin, allege in the petition that "the paper writing admitted to probate is not the last will and testament" of Mrs. Beatty.

McMillen Feed Mills, past president of the Manufacturers Council, gave a short talk, telling the group how the council had grown in strength over the past 10 years and how industrial accidents in Marion have greatly decreased. He cited the group for its fine work and paid special tribute to plant foremen, supervisors and others. Fay substituted for J. H. Walker, president of the Manufacturers Council, who was to have given the address but was unable to attend because of illness in the family.

Speaker's Theme

Rev. M. Graeser spoke to the group on the subject, "A Good Scare or Good Advice." Talking on safety, he said a good scare is not enough, and then went on to point out several instances telling of men who were told not to do something, but did it anyway and lost their lives.

Forming an acrostic, he used each letter in the word "safety" to provide the basis of his talk and said "S" could mean security, something "we dream of for ourselves, for our wives and children," then said "A" could stand for altruism, or just plain mercy. He cited the United States' mercy toward Japan and Germany following World War II.

The letter "F," he said, could mean faithfulness to any assigned task. He remarked that it could also stand for fairness, cited those doing one thing at a time and doing it well.

"E" he said, could mean equity, or justice and "T" could stand for thoughtfulness, or tolerance. "Consider others," he urged, and said no one should think there was nothing in the world besides himself.

"Y", he concluded, could stand

CROWN CAVALCADE — The PREDECESSORS of ELIZABETH II

No. 3: William II (called Rufus, or the Red, because of his ruddy complexion). Ruled England 1087-1100.

Born: 1056, second surviving and probably the favorite son of William the Conqueror. He was made the royal heir by his father in preference to the eldest son, Robert, who became Duke of Normandy. Norman barons in England revolted in Robert's favor, but William crushed the rebellion. The latter ruled England with a strong hand, exacting enormous taxes on flimsy pretenses. In enforcing them, he revived methods of punishment for small offenses which had been abolished as too severe. Ironically, William's most famous bequest was Westminster Hall, destined to be a cradle of the advancement of English common law and individual rights.

Dogs' Day

By Inez Robb

INEZ ROBB

Just a few days ago a New York magistrate, William E. Ringel, ruled that "a dog is a hardy animal" and that leaving such an animal out in the rain for an hour does not constitute cruelty.

This is one of the most fascinating legal decisions of the 20th century, and the magistrate is right. Such conduct on the part of a city dog owner does not constitute cruelty so much as sheer insanity, complicated by complete financial irresponsibility.

CITY DOGS are delicate to the point of death, full of neuroses, obscure diseases and always down with the fantods. As a small town character, one of the most fascinating aspects of the big city to me has always been the chronic invalidism of city dogs.

They are always in the veterinary shop for repairs irrespective of breed, be it scotty or Saint Bernard, pekes or poodles, bulls or boxers, chihuahua or collie. The minute they hit the city, they develop the vapors.

So I take it the magistrate is either a country boy and-or has never tried to support a dog in the city. A country dog left out in the rain for an hour will merely come in the house, shake himself all over the inhabitants and the furniture and feel dandy.

BUT A CITY DOG left out in the rain for an hour develops tonsilitis, sinus trouble, pneumonia, glandular deficiency and earache. Naturally, this requires hospitalization at a veterinary hospital at $8 per day in a ward or $15 in a private room, or as we laughingly say, kennel.

Of course, flowers, candy, bed jackets and books for the patient increase the total, too.

All dog ailments are treated now with the costly new miracle drugs, good for man or beast. And I have a friend who spends more annually for vitamins for his pooch than his child. Dogs are merely more delicate.

Any half-way adequate vet with a good kennel-side manner can make more in a week in the city than a Park Avenue specialist can in a month, and that's really raking it in. And, of course, in stubborn cases, where the vet fears the malady may be psychosomatic, he will always recommend a good canine psychoanalyst.

DOGS WERE just dogs out in the Boise Valley in Idaho when I was growing up. They were full of health and beans. I never remember one of our mutts being treated with cod-liver oil, vitamins, sulphur and molasses or sassafras tea.

No dog ever went to a vet or a psychoanalyst. In fact, life was so primitive in Idaho in those days that not even humans went to psychoanalysts.

Those were the days when the West was the West, men were men and the women liked it. It is the reverse situation nowadays which usually leads to the psychoanalytic couch, as night to day.

But to get back to dogs: For some years now I have had a million - dollar idea but not the business acumen to advance it. If any one makes a million from the idea I am about to divulge, I would be happy if he would cut me in for the regualtion 10 per cent.

The big idea and sure - fire money-maker is simply this: A Blue Cross for dogs. City people with dogs, and they are legion, would beg for it if such a service were available.

I don't want to sound an ominous note. But—either there is some kind of a prepaid hospital plan soon for city dogs or this nation will find itself saddled with socialized medicine for mutts!

Given "Superior" Rating at Ohio Music Festival

Claridon High School Band Wins State Honors

The Claridon High School band last Saturday won a "superior" rating in state finals competition at the Ohio Competitive Music Festival in Springfield.

It had previously won a district event which entitled it to enter the state finals.

The band had been entered in state competitive festivals in former years, but this was the first time it ever received a "superior" rating, the highest which can be achieved.

It was one of three bands in its division, the Class C-2 division, to be awarded the "superior" rating. Ten bands were entered in the division, which is for schools with an enrollment of less than 100 in the upper four grades.

First row: Jo Earl, Larry Kramer, Hazel Baumgardner, Carole Lusch, Margo Thompson, Howard Seckle, Harry Kramer, Kenny Smith, DiAnn Irey.

Third row: Marilyn Bowman, Kiana Smith, Dick Kelly, Leora Foos, Pat Mauermann, Joyce Weaver, Morse Fix, David Schieffer, Stanley Beers, Wilfred Dutt, Bill Hough, Dolores Hough, Marilee Johnsten, Bernard Roush, Ralph Reed, Jane Haley, Judy Maxim, Peg Oldaker, Carol Oberlander.

Not present when the picture was taken were Dick Mauermann, Ellen O'Mera and Elmer Denninger.

Rising Costs Chief Problem Of Newspapers

Cause More Worry Than Television, Publisher Declares

NEW YORK (AP)—An executive of the American Newspaper Publishers Association said today rising costs are more of a problem to the nation's newspapers than competition from television.

George C. Biggers of the Atlanta Journal and Contitution, vice-president of the ANPA, told one of the opening sessions of the ANPA's 67th annual convention:

"I am not one of those who views with alarm the future of newspapers because of television. Newspapers years ago took radio in their stride and I think will do the same with television."

"I do believe," he said in his prepared address, "that with the advent of this new form of communication, newspapers will have to take another look at their picture. They will have to extend themselves to improve their product. Executives will have to learn from their readers just what it is about the newspaper that appeals to them and—what is far more important—just what it is about the newspaper that does not appeal to them. . . .

"A more serious problem than television as I see it confronts us today in the actual cost of producing our newspapers. Labor costs have risen and continue to rise. The cost of materials continues to spiral upwards.

"There seems to be no end and in the face of their newspapers find themselves with a product the price of which cannot be increased to meet these constant increases in costs because they are faced as a majority of manufacturers and sellers of other products are not, with the law of diminishing returns."

Albert Spendlove of the Nashua, N. H., Telegraph, chairman of a conference for publishers of papers with a circulation between 10,000 and 50,000, also touched on what he called the major problem confronting the industry—"the continuing and steadily increasing shrinkage of the margin between expense and income."

Jewelers Guild To Meet Here

More than 50 jewelers from throughout Ohio will attend a meeting of the Indio Jewelers Guild to be held tonight in Marion.

Guest speaker will be T. J. O'Connell of the Elgin Watch Manufacturing Co. of Elgin, Ill. He will speak on the topic "Selling Watches" at a dinner to be held beginning at 6:30 p.m. at the Shangri-La Restauarnt at Marion Municipal Airport.

Prior to the dinner-meeting the group will gather at Carroll's Jewelry Store for introductions and cocktails.

The Indio Jewelers Guild is an organization of Indiana and Ohio jewelers formed about three years ago for the purpose of meeting and discussing solutions to mutual problems. Meetings are held eight times each year at different locations.

District Attorney's Talk Unpopular

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A prospective juror brightened proceedings during a murder trial yesterday when a defense lawyer asked him if he knew Dist. Atty. Henry Wade.

"Slightly," the venireman replied. "He spoke at my church once, telling people they ought to serve on juries."

"Was he ever invited back to speak?" the attorney asked.

"No," replied the prospective juror.

Master Pickpocket Gives Cops Advice

BALTIMORE (AP) — Roevaughn Woolridge, self-styled "greatest pickpocket in the East," showed his talent in police headquarters yesterday.

The young Negro lifted the elevator operator's pocket of a billfold and replaced it during the short ride up to detective headquarters.

Police arrested him in a bus station after he was seen loitering and boasting about his deft touch. He was charged with being a common thief and pickpocket.

The judge ordered him to leave town.

Woolridge gave this parting bit of advice to jail guards: If you get a big roll in your pocket, mix in some peanut shells with the dough. That, he explained, makes it impossible for pickpockets to ply their trade silently.

K. O. Pettersson of Sweden has given about 75 quarts of blood in 140 donations to medical organizations.

The World Today

What's Next in War?

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is a brief rundown on what lies ahead in the Korean War.

Next step, now that wounded prisoners are being exchanged, is resumption of the truce talks this week between the U. S., representing the United Nations, and the Communists.

Once the two sides agree on a cease-fire, if they do, talks to reach a permanent peace begin. No one predicts how long they would last. If in the end the peace talks break down, presumably fighting starts again.

The truce talks started in the summer of 1951, one year after the war started. They continued until October, 1952. In that time the two sides agreed on about 60 points that must precede any truce at all.

But last October the U. S. broke off the talks on a cease-fire on one major point which had been a stumbling block all the way through: the voluntary exchange of prisoners.

The Communists insisted all prisoners must be returned to their original side, whether they wanted to return or not. The U. S. said prisoners must be returned only if they wished to return or not at all.

The U. S. claims that 50,000 out of 132,000 Communist prisoners it holds do not want to return to Communist control.

In the period of the long-drawn-out peace talks, the Communists built up their strength. The U. S., agreeing now to resumption of the talks, isn't going to let the Communists stall again for more building.

It served notice the Communists must get down to business.

If there is a truce, both armies withdraw from the battleline one mile, setting up between them a two-mile demilitarized zone. There they would sit, facing each other, to be sure neither tries an attack again.

Within three months after the agreement on a truce, high officials would sit down together to work out a permanent peace agreement. While they talk the troops sit on opposite sides of the demilitarized zone.

Since the peace talks might go on for months, probably only a couple of American divisions at most could be withdrawn from Korea. So a truce agreement would not mean American troops would come pouring back to this country.

The first problem faced by the peace-talkers seems to be this: Who'll sit in on the talks? It is not clearly stated among the 60 or so armistice points already agreed on.

So there may be a wrangle over the simple question of what nations are represented in the peace negotiations. Once they get over that hurdle, here are some of the questions to be faced:

If there is peace, where should the line be drawn between North Korea and South Korea? Where the troops face each other now? The U. S. knows that line, which is very wide, would be hard for the South Koreans to defend if the North Koreans decided to attack again.

The Eisenhower administration has been considering, although the White House has said there has been no decision, a line farther north in Korea where the country is narrower.

But would the Communists agree to that? It would mean giving up land they now possess. And should this country agree to any division of Korea at all, since the South Koreans and the United Nations oppose a settlement dividing the country?

This country seems certain to insist, or at least try to, on elections among all Koreans, north and south, to see whether they want a division or one country and under what kind of government.

But elections would be a farce if the Communists did not permit impartial observers to get into North Korea and watch the voting. Yet the Communists never have permitted the United Nations to get into North Korea.

On top of these questions, there are others: Should all Koreans be left armed or unarmed? Should all outside troops be withdrawn? If so, who would watch against the U. S. or China slipping in arms?

Cambodia, Laos and Vietnam are independent states within the French Union.

EUB Revival To Continue

At the union Evangelical United Brethren revival service tonight at Calvary EUB Church, Bishop Fred L. Dennis of Dayton will speak on "A Kingdom Is Lost." His message Tuesday night was "The High Cost of Low Living." The Rev. H. V. Falor of Oakland EUB Church presided, and the Rev. R. W. Faulkner, host pastor offered the prayer. Under the direction of the Rev. A. E. Clark of the rural Salem Church, the volunteer choir sang a number. Mrs. J. W. Baker presided at the organ, and Mrs. A. E. Clark at the piano.

Attendance at the children's meeting following school Tuesday afternoon was 213. Prayer meetings are held each night at 7 preceding the revival service in the room at the southwest corner of Calvary Church, and the choir meets at that hour in the downstairs auditorium.

In his sermon Tuesday night the bishop said, "There are some people who know the high cost of right living or what it costs to finance the church. There are plenty of people on the Council of Administration who are greatly concerned about the rise in the cost of administration. Sometimes people compromise in order to stand in well with the group. This is a great temptation for the young people.

"The grip of sin is a terrible thing and people do not think when they begin to play with fire. There is no safety for any one of us except in the will of God. People may evade the law of the land in sinning, but they cannot evade the all-seeing eye of God. The high cost of low living has at its limit or its height the cost of death. It could be death in the physical sense. Many people die before the Lord would want them to die because of sin. We have gone a long way in this land of ours toward lifting of restrictions on the use of the holy day. What is the spirit in which we should use the Lord's Day? Whatsoever you do, do to the glory of God. The wages of sin is death. What is death? It is the death of hope. This death means separation from good people and from God. If a person lives his life on this low level and goes out into eternity without God, he goes out with his back toward God. There are some folk who have gone too far with their back toward God. It is time to turn around."

DIES AT ADA

ADA, O. (AP)—Prof. Harvey Evert Huber, 69, head of the department of biology and former dean of the liberal arts college of Ohio Northern University, died Tuesday.

Bucyrian Delegate For Ohio at World Medical Session

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS—Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Kehrer left today from Columbus airport for Richmond, Va., where Dr. Kehrer, an ear, eye, nose and throat specialist here for more than 50 years, will represent Ohio at the first western hemisphere conference of the World Medical Association.

Each of the 48 states is sending one 75-year-old practitioner to the conference, which is being held in observance of the lengthening of life and constant improvement of human health.

Selection of Dr. Kehrer, a lifelong resident here, was made last December by Gov. Frank J. Lausche when he spoke here at the annual meeting of Bucyrus' famed 50-Year Club.

Dr. Kehrer still is active in his practice. A son, Dr. Harry Kehrer, is associated with him.

Expenses of the conference, delegates and guests are being paid by the A. H. Robins Co., a Richmond pharmaceutical firm.

The Kehrers plan to return to Bucyrus Sunday.

Ousted Game Head Assailed By Bricker

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bricker (R—Ohio) says Albert M. Day, ousted as wildlife director, did him "a dirty political trick" last year by barring hunters from a marsh where the senator had been invited to shoot ducks.

Day said Bricker protested to him after the election campaign but added he did not consider Bricker one of the enemies Day has blamed for his removal.

Bricker was accused in last fall's political campaign of having a private hunting preserve, illegally baited for ducks, in a marsh below Lake Erie. The senator said today "I do not own a private duck marsh or any kind of a hunting preserve." He said that years ago he had a part interest in one.

Secretary of the Interior McKay has named John L. Farley, former executive director of the California Fish and Game Commission, to succeed Day in the $13,200-a-year post as director of the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Day said Sunday pressure from California duck hunters and Alaska salmon packers cost him his job. He said he numbered among his enemies those duck hunters who wanted longer shooting periods and permission to use bait to lure ducks within gun range.

Day said he would not classify Bricker as "one of my enemies" but "some of the people who own marshes up there (below Lake Erie) definitely are."

He related that Bricker protested vigorously after last November's election because the Wildlife Service had ordered some 30-duck marshes in that area shut down on grounds they had been unlawfully baited.

In that connection, Bricker said he protested after getting dozens of complaints from hunters who said they were being unjustly penalized for violations by people in nearby marshes.

Bricker said the closing of one he had been invited to shoot over was just dirty politics by Day and "I told him so when the campaign was over."

TALKS ON JOHN BUNYON

A talk about John Bunyon by Mrs. John Breithaupt was the feature of the Monday night meeting of the Elizabeth Dairy Class of the First Presbyterian Church when the group gathered at the home of Mrs. Fleta Hankel, S. Prospect St. The hostess had charge of devotions and prayer. A picnic supper

1952 Second Best Year for Building

CHICAGO (UP)—The number of houses built in 1952 far exceeded estimates made a year ago.

The quarterly letter of the United States Savings and Loan League said government statistics will show more than 1,100,000 new houses and apartments were started last year, making it the second best building year in history, exceeded only by 1950.

Norman Strunk, executive vice president, and Arthur M. Weimer, League economist, who wrote the letter, predicted that industrial building in 1953 will decline, commercial construction will increase with the expiration of materials controls and residential building will decline, probably by about 10 per cent.

Marion Marine Taking Part In Atomic Bomb Tests

Marine Pfc. Stanley E. Long, husband of Mrs. Betty J. Long of near Prospect, is one of over 2,000 Marines now at the Atomic Energy Commission Proving Grounds at Camp Desert Rock, Nevada, for the latest series of atomic tests, the Marine Corps announced today.

Pfc. Long is a member of a battalion of Marines from Camp Lejeune, N. C. He enlisted in the Marines October, 1951. His mother, Mrs. George E. Long, resides near Marion.

Pfc. Long will witness an atomic explosion and then join in a mock ground-air assault on an objective near the center of the impact area. Under simulated atomic conditions, the Marines will receive training in assault tactics relating to atomic warfare, including the recently developed art of vertical envelopment by helicopter. Training in physical protection measure and indoctrination in the effects on equipment of atomic explosions are other important phases of the exercises.

50 Per Cent Hike Asked in Cleveland Blue Cross Rates

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Hospital Service Association has asked state approval of an increase which would boost Blue Cross insurance rates nearly 50 per cent for the 1,190,000 subscribers.

If the Ohio superintendent of the insurance approves, the hike is to start June 22. The subscribers are in Cuyahoga, Lorain, Lake, Geauga and Ashtabula Counties.

Among the price changes the new rate would bring: Group-plan family—ward service, increased from $4.10 to $6 a month; semi-private room, $4.80 to $6.60.

The major change in the benefits is provision of full service for 120 days. Now, the plan calls for payment for full service 30 days, and for 90 more days, payment of $4 a day to ward subscribers and $5 to semi-private room subscribers.

The Blue Cross here said the boosts were due mostly to "higher hospital cost."

In Columbus state insurance Supt. Walter A. Robinson indicated he would act on the association's application by May 1.

Bowling Ball Slips

EVERETT, Wash. (AP) — Ed Strege, a grocer, built a new home, felt a little stiff in the muscles after putting on the finishing touches, picked up a bowling ball to limber up and took a practice swing.

State Street School Gives Talent Revue

The State Street Junior High School 1953 Talent Revue was presented in an exchange assembly at Vernon Junior High School Friday morning. Joe Merchant, the president of the State Street School student body, gave greetings and introduced Ted Bibler, who acted as master of ceremonies.

Barbara Hughes, Lois Dorfe, Nancy Askew, and Ann Warwick presented the theme song, followed by guitar duet by Clifford Roush and Chad Barger, and a skit, "The Perils of Petunia," pantomime of an old-time movie, was given by Pat Hart, Barbara Haycock, Barbara Hughes, Marlene Erwin, Phyllis White, Gretchen Haley, and Miriam Eshman.

A quartet composed of Myrna Cocherl, Betty Hanning, Shirley Hill, and Nancy James, sang and a piano solo was by Mary Jobe. Violet Benson, Marsha Shroats, and Mary VanHouten gave a skit, "Safety Is Sensible," and a record pantomime, "Side by Side," was by Rebecca Grieve and Janice Fleming. Philip and Larry Watters played a saxophone and clarinet duet. "Treasury of Stars," a skit, was presented by Joe Merchant, Charles Newman, Margaret Ann Romine, and Roberta Russell.

Folk dances were given by Barbara Hughes, Lois Dorfe, Nancy Askew, Ann Warwick, Richard Pine, Raymond Howell, Lewis Reichardt, and Chad Barger. Eva Watters did a baton twirling act. The "chorus line" was composed of Jerry Garver, Philip Watters, Joe Merchant, Charles Newman, and Larry Walters. Accompanists for the musicians were Miriam Eshman and Margaret Ann Romine, and Marion Delaney and Richard Wilson served as stage assistants. Faculty advisors were Misses Zelma Howard, Evelyn Hipsher, and Barbara Fralich.

The revue will be given at Edison Junior High School on Friday this week, and at State Street School on May 1.

Cardinal Greets Actress Convert

XAVIER, Kan. (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman greeted former actress June Haver yesterday on her first public appearance since she left the glamor of Hollywood to enter a convent last February.

The cardinal spoke at St. Mary College here. The convent, conducted by the sisters of Charity, and the college are on the same grounds.

Says Taxes Exceeded Cost of Operation

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The officers and men of the Navy attack transport Deuel paid enough income taxes in 1952 to cover the ship's operating allotment for 12 months, her commanding officer says.

Withholding taxes aboard the ship amounted to $63,500, says Capt. F. R. Putman in an article in the April issue of the Navy Conservationist. He estimates the annual allotment for operations of the Deuel—exclusive of pay, fuel, water rations and other items—at $36,000.

The Lions Club estimates it has 10,000 groups in the world.

BOWLING

Dick Weiss cracked 230 and Dale Sine smashed 614 for honors in the Marion Industries League at Marion Recreation Monday. Production posted 878 and Inspection hit a 2394. Setting the pace in the league is Tool Room No 2, 57-39, with Plating, and Production tied for second with 52-44 marks. Third is Accounting at 50½-45½, a notch ahead of M & M Division, 50-46, and Tool Room No. 1, 49-47.

Connie Baker's 189 and Judy Phelps' 499 showed the way in make-up game action in the Ladies All-Star League Sunday. Phelps had a 187 game. Other top games included Maxine Roseberry's 184, Erma Hickman's 179, Joan Zimmerman's 174, Virginia Eby's 174, Marion Crispin's 171 and 172, and Audrey Lloyd's 172. Triple Service Co., in second spot in the league at 61½-34½, bowled 809-2266. Carroll's Jewelry, 64-29, tops the league and New Era Chips, 50-46, is third, slightly in front of Carl's Auto Parts, 49-47, and Boyd's Funeral Home, 48-48.

TOP SECRET SCORE. A bit self-conscious President Dwight D. Eisenhower places his golf score under a classified heading as he pins on a badge telling everyone present not to ask his golf score before going around the course at Augusta, Ga., with Sen. Robert A. Taft.

KENT, O. (AP)—The Kent American Legion Band, seven - time champion of Ohio Legion bands, is going to disband. Portage Post 496, announcing this, blamed lack of public acceptance and support which it said tended to "demoralize" members, and a growing tension at the state level of the Legion concerning the annual band competition. The band has placed second in national competition the past three years, and represented Ohio musically in the inaugural parade at Washington Jan. 20.

Rotary Club Hears Talk On Weather

R. C. McMasters, TV Weatherman, Gives Address

"Understanding Our Ohio Weather" was the subject of R. C. "Bob" McMasters, television weather commentator from WBNS-TV, Columbus, when he addressed the Marion Rotary Club in its weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday at Hotel Harding.

McMasters said "Weather is fun and it's a fascinating field. After you have studied weather, the interest is a continuous one."

He compared weather with a business venture, using the atmosphere as the raw material.

Illustrating the latter part of his talk with picture slides, McMasters explained the general make-up and sources of the weather, including air masses, rotation of the earth, and height of the atmosphere.

He said Ohio has no climate of its own, because of shifting of the air masses resulting from the rate of speed the earth revolves about the sun.

He explained that the source of Ohio's weather is in the moving air masses across mountain ranges and two opposite climates, namely, Alaska and Mississippi.

Robert Bagley, Rotary program chairman for April, introduced the speaker.

Visiting Rotarians at the meeting were Charles E. Kirk of Findlay, and B. C. Poston of Chillicothe. Guests were Charles Harmon, John House, E. D. Halsey, John R. Cameron, Charles Whysall, Gene Poling, H. J. NcGara, Dr. H. Ray Finney and Cal Arnold, all of Marion.

Lenora Dune was the student reporter from the Harding High School journalism class.

Ice Blamed For Only Auto Crash

A collision blamed on icy pavement was the only traffic accident reported today by Marion police.

A Safety Cab Co. taxi driven by Clifford H. Roush, 36, of 1069 Uncapher Ave. and a car driven by Paul E. Monnette, 35, of 445 Osgood St. were damaged when they collided at N. Greenwood and Quarry Sts. at 8:33 a.m. Tuesday.

Both told police their cars skidded on ice. Monnette was traveling north on N. Greenwood St. and Roush was driving east on Quarry St.

ON TRIAL FOR MAIMING

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O. (AP)—Robert Hostetler, 41, of nearby Gnadenhutten went on trial Tuesday on a charge of maiming and disfiguring John Brokaw, 32, by throwing caustic acid in his face. Brokaw, one eye blinded by the incident, testified he had been intimate with Hostetler's wife.

O'Neill Chuckles After Phils Whip Dodgers and Meyer

Curt Simmons Wins 2nd Straight With 5-Hitter

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sportswriter

It's a little early in the season to be laughing out loud but Steve O'Neill is having a real good chuckle at the expense of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

O'Neill's Philadelphia Phils dumped the Dodgers, 7-1, last night in their first meeting. And to make the triumph considerably sweeter, they beat their old buddy Russ Meyer.

The Phils have been fighting a more or less losing battle in their efforts to convince the rest of the National League they didn't guarantee another pennant for Brooklyn when they gave up Meyer in a four-cornered trade in February.

But last night the Phils batted around in the first inning and scored three runs, then chased Meyer with an uprising in the fifth that included a home run into the left field seats by Del Ennis with Johnny Wyrostek on base.

Brooklyn managed to hold on to the league lead when Cincinnati defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-4, at St. Louis in another night game, with Harry Perkowski gaining the nod over Harvey Haddix.

In the other National League game, also at night, the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the New York Giants, 5-4, behind the steady seven-hit pitching of Bob Friend.

A home run by Joe Collins gave the New York Yankees a 1-0 verdict over the Boston Red Sox; Cleveland snapped the St. Louis Browns' four-game winning streak with a 4-3 decision; Chicago outlasted Detroit, 7-5, and Washington whipped Philadelphia, 5-1, at night in American League contests.

Milwaukee and Chicago in the National League weren't scheduled.

O'Neill has frankly predicted the Phillies can win the National League flag this year and his club made him look mighty good against the Dodgers, who had dropped only one game in their first five starts.

Lefty Curt Simmons struck out eight and gave up only five scattered singles for his second straight victory. Meyer was charged with all seven Philadelphia runs although the last two were unearned and scored after Ben Wade had come on in relief.

son missed a sign and was thrown out easily trying to go from first to third on a short single.

The Giants moved into Pittsburgh figuring on fattening their batting averages on Pirate pitching. The first game looked like a cinch with Sal Maglie, who had a lifetime record of 15-3 against Pittsburgh, going against Friend, who never had beaten the New Yorkers. But Maglie didn't have it last night. He lasted only four innings and departed trailing by three runs.

The Giants lost the services at least temporarily of second baseman Davey Williams and catcher Wes Westrum. Westrum hurt his hand trying to tag out Danny O'Connell in the second inning and Williams reinjured his lame back while diving for a low drive in the fourth. Both men were due for X-rays today.

Left-hander Chuck Stobbs of Washington pitched 5 2-3 innings of hitless ball against the Athletics until Dave Philley singled. The Washington attack against Charlie Bishop and Bobo Newsom wasn't exactly powerful but it was effective.

Allie Reynolds pitched the Yankee shutout against the Red Sox, the third whitewashing the Boston club has suffered in six outings.

Collins' winning home run—a low liner into the friendly right field seats at Yankee Stadium—came on a 3-2 pitch off Marv Grissom in the fifth inning.

Bob Lemon, who twirled a one-hitter in his opening day game a week ago, had to bear down all the way against the hustling Browns and finally cut them off with the bases loaded in the ninth. The loss dropped the Browns into a first-place tie with the Yankees.

Billy Pierce, like Lemon the author of a one-hitter in his first appearance, needed help from Harry Dorish as the White Sox took the measure of the Tigers in Detroit.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

A full-fledged war of words has broken out in the basketball world between Clyde Lovellette, former Kansas cage star, and Easy Ed Macauley of the Boston Celtics.

The argument stems from a recent article, reported to have been written by Lovellette, and Macauley's answer.

SHORT

Lovellette, now an ace with the Phillips' Oilers, amateur cage squad, blasted the pro circuits and said, "I'm not sure playing pro ball would be fun. The pressure of winning takes the fun out of playing." That statement was made in a national sports publication and one month later, the same magazine carried the Boston star's blistering reply.

Macauley has gained many fans through his reply to the rather asinine statement made by Lovellette. He told the amateur star to stay in his present position and went on to add there was no place in the pro ranks for a cager with his line of reasoning.

Macauley's answer to Lovellette was a simple straight forward explanation of any athlete's feeling toward his game.

He said, "If you mean that by playing with the Phillips' Petroleum Co., you don't have to win, or if you mean that you can let down a little and it doesn't affect your job or if you mean that their schedule is easy enough to let you relax a lot, then I agree with you. You belong at Phillips.

"For some strange reason though, I could never look at basketball that way. To me, the pressure to win doesn't come from the outside of a human being but from the inside. The pressure to win comes from an athlete's heart and doesn't depend on the size of the pay check or the number of people in the stands watching. Some players in this league (NBA) get paid four or five times as much as their teammates but

King Resigns Grid, Cage Post At Bucyrus

Richard Frantz To Coach Football; Hoop Spot Vacant

BUCYRUS — Resignation of Richard King, head football and basketball coach at Bucyrus High School, for the past two years, was accepted here today by the board of education.

The resignation of King, who came here in 1950 as head basketball coach, is effective at the end of the present school year.

A graduate of Ashland College, King said today he plans to accept a junior high school post, where he will have spare time to devote to an evergreen nursery near Butler, O., in which he and his father are partners.

During his three years as cage mentor, his teams won 35 of 48 games and twice tied for the championship of the Northern Ohio League. Last November, he resigned as head footbal lcoach. His gridiron teams had a two-year record of four wins, 12 losses and two ties.

The retiring coach began his coaching career at Butler High School. Later he coached two years at Fredericktown and five years at Mt. Gilead before coming here.

His successor as football coach is Richard Frantz. School board members said a new basketball coach will be named later.

Brown, Zulueta In Television Ring Feature

BALTIMORE (AP) — Two lightweight journeymen, Joey Brown of New Orleans and Orlando Zulueta of Havana, get to display their boxing wares to the country tonight.

The scheduled 10-rounder in the coliseum (10 p. m., EST) will be telecast on the CBS Network. It will be Brown's first such photogenic opportunity.

Brown and Zulueta have been bouncing around in the 135-pound ranks for seven years without meeting before. Off their records, they appear on a par with each

Girls' League Opens May 19

Six Teams Set To Begin Season

The Marion Girls' Softball League has set May 19 as the tentative opening date for its season. Six teams will open the two-round campaign on that date, weather permitting.

Two new entries will be playing in the league this season. Fairfield-Berlou will replace the former LK-Berlou squad while Arro Expansion Bolt will be filling the spot held last season by the Fulfillment Corporation. Teams returning for another season will be Marion Engineer Depot, Marion Industries, Marion Power Shovel and the Telephone Co.

Plans for the new season were made at a meeting of the league commission recently. A commission spokesman said the rules used last year will remain intact and starting time for all games will be 6:15. A full schedule of three games will be played each Tuesday night.

The three-round system, used

Told To "Keep Swinging"

Glynn Seen as Capable Replacement for Easter

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland fans today regarded chunky Bill Glynn as a satisfactory replacement for the injured Luke Easter—if he hits.

"Just keep swinging like you have been," Manager Al Lopez of the Indians advised Glynn, "and those hits will come. Don't worry about it."

Glynn, who played errorless ball Tuesday in his first day at first since Easter's foot was broken by a pitched ball, said he doesn't know "whether I'm swinging too hard or the bat's too heavy or what."

Regarding his fielding performance, Glynn said: "I felt right at home out there and even that big crowd didn't scare me." The "crowd" at cavernous Lakefront Stadium was 1,772.

The best Glynn could contribute to the offense in the 4-3 Indian victory over the league - leading Browns was a walk.

Whether Glynn had anything to do with it or not, it is a fact that for the first time this season the Indians played nine full innings without a fielding mistake.

It also is a fact that Bob Lemon is the only starter on the big four who has been able to win this season, or, for that matter, finish. Mike Garcia, Early Wynn, and Bob Feller have been showered and dressed when their games ended.

The Indians got all their runs Tuesday off Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, who apparently found that four days rest wasn't enough.

It got tough for Lemon in the late innings, Dixie Upright hit a pinch homer—his first in the majors—in the eighth to make it 4-2, and ex-Indian Hank Edwards drove across another in the ninth with a pinch single.

Lemon, with two out, then loaded the bases by walking Don Lenhardt, also a pinch hitter. Then Lemon forced Bob Young to top the ball with a sinker. He tossed Young out and ended the game.

Dale Mitchell had a day that was good and bad. It was good, in that he drove in Cleveland's first run and batted two for four.

It was bad because he was arrested for driving 52 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone. He was driving down to the ball park at the time.

The Indians play their free game at the stadium today, Whites against Grays.

Macauley concluded by pointing out that the professional league doesn't go in for character building. His final statement sums up our belief that an athlete not putting out his best doesn't possess much character.

"We want to win because our own personal pride in our ability makes us do everything possible to produce a winner," he told Lovellette.

Harding Thinclads Win Again, Down Mt.Vernon

Prexies Take 33rd in Row, Eye Relays

Harding's track team won its fourth dual meet of the season Tuesday at Mt. Vernon. The thinclads rolled by Mt. Vernon, 86-32, for their 33rd straight dual meet win.

Coach Kenny Somerlot's harriers took eight individual first places, won both relays, and scored sweeps in the high jump and mile run. The broad jumpers failed in their attempt to keep their record clean.

Beautiful warm weather stimulated the runners and many of the boys came up with their best races. Fred Price knocked four seconds off his best time in running the mile in fine early time of 4:51.5. Whitey Clinger and Jack Andrews both broke 55 seconds in the 440.

The locals copped both the mile and 880-yard relays to keep their string intact. The broad jump team failed to sweep its event for the first time this year as Doug Bibler had trouble with the wide take-off board. Dick Bollinger and Frank Green both went over 20 feet.

The 880-yard relay team with Gary Ballinger, Dick Burtch, Chet King and captain Jack Garver, who has had a pulled leg muscle, hit its finest time of the season, 1:36.4.

Harding's second team in the mile relay made the Prexies' first team really run. Jim Salter, leading off for the second team, defeated Fred Hazen of the first team in the first lap but Frank Green, Jack Andrews and Larry Clinger got the lead back to run 3:42.7. The second team also beat Mt. Vernon with time of 3:49.

Harding's Jack Boxwell remained undefeated in his specialty, the discus throw, by heaving the platter 128 feet, seven inches.

The win over Mt. Vernon warmed up the locals for the Fremont Relays Friday. The locals have won the event three straight years Coach Somerlot will take about 24 boys to Fremont, and the same number will be entered in the Ohio Wesleyan Relays Saturday.

Dodgers Seek Revenge Over New Yorkers

Dressen Expects Better Mark In Series With Giants

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Last year the Brooklyn Dodgers won only eight of their 22 games against the New York Giants, and yet they were able to distance the Polo Grounders by a comfortable margin because they slaughtered the tail-end Pirates, Braves and Reds, 54 to 11.

Charlie Dressen, the manager of the defending league champions, does not believe it possible for his athletes to again run up such a staggering margin over the second division patsies. For one thing, the law of averages is against it, and for another the Dodger pilot is convinced that there is more sound strength in the National League's lower bracket than there was a year ago.

So, Charlie reasons that it behooves him to take a much firmer stand against the Giants this time, and that has been uppermost in his mind from the first day he began putting his squad together down in Florida. Every move he has made was aimed primarily at gaining at least parity with his old pal Leo Durocher.

For example, he realized he had to do something drastic about Sal Maglie. The Giant right-hander slapped his lads down six out of eight last season, which might well have proved fatal if other clubs in the league had not curled up and died before the Flatbushers.

"It'll be different this time," Charlie promises. "If I feel like it I can toss in six left-hand batters against that guy, something I couldn't do last year. In addition to Duke Snider I will be able to stack my lineup with Junior Gilliam, George Shuba, Don Thompson, Rube Walker and Wayne Belardi.

"On the other hand, there isn't much Leo can do to help his lineup when I throw my lefty, Preacher Roe, at him. He hasn't any right-hand hitter he can put in right field to replace Don Mueller or at first base in place of Whitey Lockman. Over the long run this could make the difference. I don't think they'll get fat on us this time."

Dressen feels that Russ Meyer, whom the Dodgers obtained in the winter's most mysterious player deal, may give him some important help in standing off the club he obviously thinks is the one he has to beat. We well recall that the Giants viewed the deal with vast distaste.

Double Round Faces Golfers In North-South

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—Today was "T Day"—"T" for trouble—as the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament's 32 survivors of Tuesday's first round firing moved into a double round of play. When the smoke has cleared late this afternoon eight hardy survivors will move into quarter-final play tomorrow.

But before that end is accomplished there may be some important casualties lining the fairways of the 6,952-yard No. 2 court of the Pinehurst Country Club.

The co-medalists and the defending champion all won Tuesday, but their manner of winning was hardly convincing—a mere one-up margin for each.

Strategy Pays In Reds' Win Over St. Louis

Post Replaces Bell, Slams Home Run; Smith Saves Game

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Oftentimes in baseball it's the behind-the-scenes maneuvering that pays off—such as starting Wally Post instead of Gus Bell in centerfield for Cincinnati Tuesday night.

Manager Rogers Hornsby decided on the right-handed hitting Post instead of Bell, who swings from the left, when he found St. Louis planned on using southpaw Harvey Haddix as pitcher.

"I want to give the kid a chance to work his way into the line-up against left-handed pitching," the Rajah explained.

The rest is in the record books. Post connected for a two-run homer off Haddix in the fifth inning and those two runs proved the victory margin as the Redlegs nosed out the Cardinals, 5-4.

Bell got his chance to see action after Dick Bokelmann, a righty, relieved Haddix. Hornsby figured his strategy had already paid off.

The game actually wasn't the nip-and-tuck affray that the score would lead one to believe. The Redlegs piled up a 5-0 margin after five innings and then had to fight off a Cardinal upsurge.

Johnny Temple, the game's lead-off batter, doubled in the first inning and scored on Ted Kluszewski's long fly after moving to third on a sacrifice. The Redlegs added another marker in the third when Bobby Adams and Kluszewski singled and Jim Greengrass followed with a screaming two-base hit to rightfield.

Adams hit the first pitch of the fifth inning into the leftfield seats. Willard Marshall and Kluszewski were easy outs, but Greengrass drew a base on balls and Post whammed the ball into the leftfield bleachers to increase the Cincinnati total to five runs.

Lefty Harry Perkowski, who had breezed through the first five innings, weakened in the sixth and the Cards narrowed the gap to 5-3 as Ray Jablonski homered with Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter on base.

Peanuts Lowrey made the Redlegs start chewing their nails as he hammered the ball for a pinch-hit home run with none on in the seventh, but Fireman Frank Smith came on to relieve Perkowski and blanked the Redbirds the last two innings on two hits.

Little League Player Auction Set This Week

Little League baseball players will be auctioned Thursday and Friday nights at the Veterans Home on Delaware Ave.

The meetings will be open only to team managers and Little League baseball commissioners. Fred Schultz, players agent for the commission, will be in charge of the auction.

Tryouts for positions on teams were completed recently after every boy in the specified age groups had a chance to try-out for a team in the National and American Leagues.

Team managers are Gene Mull, Osgood; Nick Cafagno, Hinton's Sport Shop; Carl Saenger, Wilhelm's Wallpaper; and Ben Lenavitt, Vance Sports Goods, all of the National League; and Wilson Ishida, Isaly's Dairy; Bob Auble, Marion Goodyear Tire Service; Paul Drake, National City Bank; and Dick McClarey, Marion County Bank in the American League.

Wilhelm's Wallpaper and Isaly's Dairy will be out to repeat as champs in their respective leagues when action opens May 18. Isaly's Dairy became city champs last season by winning the playoffs.

Team managers will receive 10,000 points this year and, with points left over from last season's total of 36,000 points will bid for players. Managers will receive 2,000 points for any player they lost due to injury or illness or who moved away. Boys left over after the bidding will be chosen by the managers. The teams have to cut their rooster to 15 uniformed players by the start of the season.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—Although the stock market held to the downside today, considerable resistance to decline developed in significant areas of the list.

Price changes went from around a point lower to fractions higher, and on balance the market was lower.

Business was slack. Trading was at one of the slowest rates of the year. Tuesday's total came to a million and a quarter shares, second smallest of this year.

Lower stocks included General Motors, United Aircraft, American Telephone, Allied Chemical, American Can Southern Railway, Standard Oil (NJ), and U. S. Gypsum.

Higher were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Goodyear, Du Pont, Dow Chemical, Pepsi-Cola, and New York Central.

OH, GOLLY~ WASN'T IT LUCKY WE HEARD MY STEPMOTHER AND HER GIRL FRIEND BRAGGING ABOUT HOW THEY SENT A LETTER TO THE SHERIFF TELLING HIM YOU WERE LIVING WITH MRS TRANQUEEL?!
YES~ WE WAS TERRIBLE LUCKY~ BUT IF YOUR STEPMOTHER FINDS OUT I AM HIDING HERE IN YOUR BEDROOM, WE WON'T BE LUCKY VERY LONG
SHE'LL NEVER DREAM YOU ARE HIDING IN HER OWN APARTMENT~ THE DOOR IS BOLTED, AND I KEEP THE RADIO PLAYING WHILE WE TALK~ AND IF SHE DOES COME IN, YOU HIDE IN THE EMPTY TRUNK IN THE CLOSET
THE SHERIFF WOULD NEVER LOOK FOR YOU HERE IN A HUNDRED YEARS~ HE KNOWS MY STEPMOTHER HATES YOU~
YEAH~ BUT I KEEP THINKIN' OR ALL THE THINGS THAT MIGHT HAPPEN~ AN' HOPIN' THEY DON'T
